OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 23.—At least one of the twelve defendants whom the federal government is prosecuting for the $200,000 kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel, millionaire oil man, thinks he will be convicted.

He is Albert L. Bates, notorious desperado.

"I expect to take the rap," Bates told International News Service today as the defense prepared to make its counter attack on the government evidence.

Government Rests.

The government has rested. It is now the defense inning.

Bates, of all defendants, has had "the finger" put on him by the government. They produced witnesses who testified Bates and the fugitive George ("Machine Gun") Kelly were the pair who, armed with a

PA NEW OBSERVES

Today is the last day of summer.
The autumnal equinox begins this evening at 7:01. Daylight savings time ends at midnight.

Mrs. Jemima Foster, who has charge of the ingathering of fruit and vegetables for the Almira Home, wishes to inform the women of the city that they can get empty jars and glasses at the home in exchange for their full ones. The ingathering this year will be on Monday, Oct. 16, and it is expected that much canned goods will go to fill the cupboards of the home, to be used for winter consumption.

Looks like a good football year at Taggart Stadium. The Bradcock game drew a good gate and the Ellwood game topped it. No matter the relative merits of the two teams, New Castle and Ellwood always draw.

Traffic on the Ellwood road last night looked like a busy city street.
The folks were over in large numbers.

A couple of jars of that good preserve you put up at this year would look well up at the Almira Home.
The ingathering of canned goods starts soon. Why not have a part of the satisfaction.

A young high school miss yesterday insisted in crossing Washington street at East street in spite of the fact that the traffic light was against her. When a police officer cautioned her, she quite independently informed the officer she would do as she pleased. The result is that she has been ordered before Mayor Charles B. Mayne on a charge of jay walking.

An unusual red pepper adorns the counter of The News today. Miss Violet Frankovich, 1009 West State street, went into her garden this morning and picked a large red pepper and upon cutting it open, right in the center is a perfectly formed green heart.

Turn Back Your Clock Tonight My Friend, For D. S. T. Comes To An End

"Twice yearly in Pennsylvania," said the editor to the reporter, "we tell the folks about turning their clocks ahead or backward—as if they didn't know:

"So give me a couple of lines on it."

Somehow this heavy assignment brought the reporter face to face with "footprints in the sands of time," or maybe he was worried about the chances of the Jints in the world series.

Anyway, he wrote:
We're back at the corner, folks—no, no, not that elusive corner we've been looking for since '29, but back at the corner where time changes.
Probably 1,999,999 alarm clocks
(the number may not be accurate) will be turned back an hour tonight and tomorrow as we return once more to standard time.

According to the best authorities on the subject, if there are any such characters or if the subject rates an authority, if you change your clock before you go to bed tonight and go to bed at the same tonight that you did last night you will be going to bed an hour earlier.

(Editor's note: Time out for a breath.)

However, to make it a little more interesting, if you go to bed when you turn the clock back instead of staying up an hour later because it's an hour earlier than your usual bedtime, you'll regain that hour you lost last spring when you shifted your clock ahead.

Mr. Einstein's theory will help us out here.

Briefly, (editor's note, he should have been brief in the first place), daylight saving time ends tonight.
Correction, please—at two o'clock Sunday morning. Clocks should be set back an hour.

Will Arraign Scarnici And Kidnaping Mob

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Awaiting the arrival of warrants from upstate charging three of the gang with robbery of a Rensselaer, N. Y., bank and the murder of a detective, and Albany bench warrants naming the gang leader and one confederate as the kidnapers of John J. O'Donnell, police today were to arraign Leon-and six companions for robbery of an uptown New York bank.

And as Scarnici and four men and two women companions faced the specific robbery charge, designed to hold them until the warrants for the more serious crimes are received, authorities worked to complete evidence of the most hor-

Scarnici is charged—living burial

Lady Luck Parked On His Shoulder

(International News Service)
LAS VEGAS, Nev., Sept. 23.—
Arthur Hayden, 65, veteran desert rat, smiled today when sentenced to 90 days in jail for begging on the streets.

Hayden "panhandled" a tourist out of 25 cents yesterday, spent a dime for "coffee and sinkers" and played the other 15 cents on a roulette wheel in a gambling palace.

The bewhiskered old man pyramided the 15 cents to $1,000, and deposited it in the postal savings.

Arrested later for begging he chose a jail term rather than pay a fine.

EIGHT PERSONS
ESCAPE INJURY

(International News Service)
ALIQUIPPA, Pa., Sept. 23.—Six business houses in this borough's busiest thoroughfare were damaged by an explosion here today which ripped Joseph Ragone's fruit market.

Police said the blast was caused by a bomb.

Ragone, his wife and six children were asleep over the store. They escaped unhurt.

The bombs had been placed inside the store. Woodwork supporting show windows was blown outward by the concussion.

Other business houses damaged by the blast included the Klein Jewelry store, Isaly's Dairy and Sloan's hardware store. All are located in the same block.

This unusual photo, snapped during a recess in the trial of 12 persons at Oklahoma City for the kidnaptors of the case, Special Assistant Attorney General Joseph B. Keenan and District Attorney Herbert K. Hyde.

All three have been mentioned in death threat notes which are supposed to have been sent by George ("Ma-

Return Judges Will Order In Ballot Boxes

Found That In One Precinct
More Votes Were Counted
Than Were Cast

DISCREPANCY IS LAID TO MISTAKE

Indications are that some of the ballot boxes from city precincts will be ordered in by the return judges who are making the official count of the ballots cast at Tuesday's election.

In the first precinct of the third ward it has been found that more votes are credited to candidates, than the figures show were cast at the election. Apparently there is a surplus of nine votes counted which do not appear to have been cast.

This will necessitate a checking of the ballots, in order to determine the correct vote. No manipulation of the ballots is intimated, the discrepancy evidently arising from mistakes in checking the ballots, or in writing the figures on the return sheets.

There is apparently an error in the return sheets from the second precinct of the second ward, and it is likely that the ballot from that district will be called in. It is believed that the trouble there has also been due to clerical errors.

With the contest so close for some of the offices particularly district attorney and city controller, it is recognized that a few errors might easily change the results as unofficially reported.

The candidates, or their friends, who are interested in the contests which were close, are present while the official count is being made.
The return judges are still at work on the city returns, and other errors may be discovered.

Schmidt "Guilty" On Booze Charges

Jury Returned Verdict After

Over Six Hours

MAY APPEAL
FOR NEW TRIAL

Lorenz Schmidt, charged with manufacturing and possessing liquor at the Castle Hill Mission, was found guilty by a jury at court Friday afternoon.

The jury retired shortly after 9 o'clock after a charge by Judge James A. Chambers, and reached an agreement about 3:30 in the afternoon.

Schmidt fought the case on the grounds that he had rented three rooms to a couple of men, and that it was in these rooms that the still, mash and liquor was found. He denied all knowledge of their opera-

Unless an application for a new trial is made Schmidt, who is out on bail, will be sentenced at the close of the present term of court.

Hospitals Facing Financial Crisis

Conduct Survey Of Means

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 23.—Fact-finding committees of hospital trustees today were conducting a survey to find a means of keeping 36 hospitals in Pittsburgh district open despite a grave crisis in their financial condition.

Henry G. Yearick, chairman of the hospital conference in this section, pointed out that passage of the state relief bond issue in November would not entirely eliminate seriousness of the situation which has been caused by diminished incomes, increasing prices and an ever-growing number of charity cases.

Yearick said many of the 36 hospitals are nine months to a year behind in meeting current bills.
Within the last few days the Rochester General Hospital was required to give a post-dated check for a two-day supply of eggs to feed its patients. Public-minded citizens raised a $300 fund to care for immediate food supplies for the ailing in that borough.

TROUBLE LOOMS AS MINERS MOBILIZE

West Virginia Officers Ready

Will Repel With Force Any Attempt Of Pennsylvanians
To March Into State

COAL OPERATIONS ARE AT STANDSTILL

By LEO V. DOLAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 23.—Determined to halt the flow of West Virginia coal into a market they have crippled, striking miners of the Western Pennsylvania bituminous area early today were reported planning to mobilize in Greene county for an "invasion" of the West Virginia field.

West Virginia authorities were ready to repel any such march. Purpose of the invasion, should it be attempted, would be to persuade West Virginia coal workers to drop their tools pending union recognition, thus damming at its source the importation of coal into this industrial region.

At Standstill
Operations in the Western Pennsylvania area have been brought to a standstill as the result of the miners' "holiday," affecting between 50,000 and 60,000 miners. The holiday, first declared in protest against the long-delayed coal code and wage agreement negotiations at Washington, has been extended because of failure of the H. C. Frick Coke Company to sign the code.

Efforts to pin responsibility for the miners' mobilization order on some responsible source met with failure. It was learned, however, that Pennsylvania organizers have been quietly at work in the West Virginia field, seeking a sympathetic walkout to lend force to the Pennsylvania strike.

A bit of strategy enabled the organizers to penetrate the West Virginia area. Stopped at the state line by state police and other officials, the organizers ostensibly turned their backs on the southern field. But only long enough to board trains and buses which brought them across the border without difficulty.

West Virginia authorities, meanwhile, signified firm determination to halt any mass movement of the Pennsylvania miners into the adjacent state.

Troops Out
Deputies and state troopers were ordered out to patrol the Pennsylvania-West Virginia border line 12 miles north of Morgantown. It is in this territory that the Pennsylvania miners seek to extend the paralysis now gripping the Southwestern Pennsylvania coal region.

Of the twelve mines operated regularly in the borderline territory south of the Pennsylvania line, five mines were reported ready to close today following a walkout vote by the workers. Should these mines close, the reported invasion would be directed at the remaining seven.

A note of warning was sounded by Capt. J. R. Brockus, commander of Troop A, West Virginia State Police. Brockus declared:

"We feel we have enough trouble of our own in this state without others bothering us. These men from Pennsylvania have no business here and we're going to keep them out."

Why is it the "long noses" will worry about your extra hour of leisure and forget you when you have all leisure and no work?

The returns of the primary election have given me the Republican nomination for City Council. Quite naturally I am deeply grateful for this expression of confidence upon the part of my fellow citizens. completely armored with bullet proof glass. Further questioning brought an admission that Bergi had made similar arrangements for arming the cars of William "Three-Fingered Jack" White and Claude Maddox, notorious public enemies.

Intensive Manhunt.
The automobile wrecked and abandoned by the machine gunners after killing Policeman Miles Cunningham was traced to Charles Phillips, garage owner, whose name and address was given when the car was purchased in the name of J. J. Rosenberg.

Police were firm in their belief that either the gang of "Terrible Touths" or the Harvey Bailey gang of southwest desperadoes executed the robbery and killing, possibly with the aid of Winkler.

Search for the killers spread over half a dozen states with federal authorities taking a leading part in the manhunt.

Although federal inspectors said the two mail pouches in all probability contained nothing of value several days will be required before a check of various banks can disclose the exact amount of the loot.

Charges Are Made Against McCall

Alleged To Have Taken Automobile And Ran Into Windows Of Store

Police were called Friday to West State street, where they found that William McCall, rear 719 West Grant street, had taken the car of Marsden Drake, 605 Wilmington avenue, while parked on the property of the Lawrence Ice and Cold Storage Company, drove it up onto State street and run it up over the curb into the store windows of Tony Phillips, 617 West State street, breaking the same. The officers took McCall into custody. He was found to be without a drivers license. He was today turned over to Alderman James J. Brice, who charges have been made against him by the persons, whose property he damaged and whose car he took.

Efforts to pin responsibility for the miners' mobilization order on some responsible source met with failure. It was learned, however, that Pennsylvania organizers have been quietly at work in the West Virginia field, seeking a sympathetic walkout to lend force to the Pennsylvania strike.

Police Put Up 10,000 Posters Instructing Citizens As To What To Do

HOPE TO CLEAN CITY OF VICE

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 23.—Pittsburgh's police department today declared war on crime.

Posters—10,000 of them—were ordered displayed by Superintendent of Police Franklin T. McQuade in the drive to clear Pittsburgh of crime and gunmen.

The posters, displaying a woman calling Court 0300—the police headquarters number—are to be placed in conspicuous places throughout the city to instruct citizens on what to do when the emergency arises where police assistance is needed.

In his appeal for public aid in the drive, Superintendent McQuade said: "Pittsburgh's police radio system will bring you help in a hurry, but you must co-operate. If you see a crime committed or see something suspicious the nearest telephone will bring radio police within a few minutes."

vaded the Urschel home and "snatched the millionaire."

The other "super-desperado" on trial, the taciturn Harvey J. Bailey, was non-committal. A somber, aloof man of 49, with a hunted look in his moody eyes, he gives newspaper reporters a wide berth. He "won't talk."

Bailey In Case.
But the government has hooked Bailey into the case—even though not as deeply as Bates.

They have shown that when Bailey was arrested a fortnight after the kidnapping at that mysterious place known as the Shannon ranch government contents was a hideout for burglars and bandits, he had $700 of the Urschel ransom money in his trousers.

The government regards that as damaging evidence against Bailey. But they failed to show Bailey had any actual part in the abduction itself. They were prevented by a ruling from Federal Judge Edgar S. Vaughn from getting before the jury the fact that the dangerous Bailey broke jail at Dallas, Tex., shortly after his arrest.

field, who told Captain Richard Oliver, head of the New York undercover squad, Scarnici had admitted in her presence that he murdered her son in the fantastically cruel fashion at the orders of the "king pin of the Boston underworld."

So impressed was Oliver he immediately got into communication with Massachusetts authorities to obtain full information concerning the case.

Weeping and expressing relief that Scarnici had been apprehended, Mrs. Wilson told local police her son had been acting as chauffeur for a petty Springfield racketeer when he was murdered in April, 1927. Scarnici, she said, made an oral confession in her presence to police of Agawam, a Springfield suburb, but refused to sign it and authorities there dropped the case for lack of corroborative evidence.

"Thank God he has been arrested," Mrs. Wilson exclaimed. I have lived in fear of him for six years."

READY TO PROVE NRA SUCCESS

gument that present accomplishments can be doubled by continued and expanded co-operation.

While the NRA is generally credited with putting 2,500,000 men and women back to work, experts are preparing to show in detail the gain in employment under codes, wage increases and prospective betterment.

In General Terms
Thus far Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, has dealt only in general terms, because his corps of experts had not yet obtained definite figures from industries affected.

Victor Von Szeleski, statistician of the NRA, in the latest estimate, told an Atlantic City audience that the movement had opened up two and a half million jobs.

The statistics now being gathered are expected to be used extensively in the buying campaign to be started by Johnson. It is tentatively scheduled to begin October 1.

Preparations were made for important hearings on codes next week as the newspaper code hearing was brought to a close. Among the hearings to be held are those on the hotel, cleaning and dyeing, banking and aluminum codes.

Renewed Threat Of Farm Strike

Agricultural Association Comes Forward With Code Of Fair Competition

(International News Service)
DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 23.—The nation's most militant agricultural organization came forward today with a proposal for an agrarian code of fair competition and with a renewed threat of a farm strike if its demands are not met by the national administrator.

Voting in effect that agriculture could benefit under a national code, the national association, which has staged two farm strikes—late yesterday commissioned representatives to take its code proposal to Washington and also carry with them the organization's relief demands.

The convention demanded this four-point relief program: 1. Government guarantee cost of production prices for farm products. 2. A definite pledge of enactment of the Frazier bill by the next congress. The Frazier bill provides for farm mortgage refinancing at the rate of 1½ per cent interest a year and 1½ principal payments a year. 3. Immediate payment of the soldiers' bonus by issuance of new government certificates. 4. Immediate use of his inflationary powers by President Roosevelt.

If these demands are not met, the convention voted, the national officers are to declare a new farm strike.

We won't consider it an insult to the country that a British official took tea instead of beer with President Roosevelt until we have sampled the president's favorite brand of 3.2.

Republicans Facing Test

State G. O. P. Facing Severe Test In Patriotism And Common Sense

ATTACK MADE ON THIRD PARTY

(International News Service)
EVERETT, Pa., Sept. 23.—The Republican party in Pennsylvania is facing a test of its patriotism and common sense, Richard J. Beamish, secretary of the commonwealth, told Republicans here today as he interpreted the primary election as a stern notice that the people of this state will "no longer tolerate terrorism."

"From the very birth of this republic there has been a tory party which masquerades as Republican in Pennsylvania and Democratic in New York," Beamish said at a meeting of Bedford county Republicans.

Attack Third Party
It is owned by a little group totally devoid of political principles. This group comprises the billionaires and their legal advisers who find loopholes in income tax regulations and in the laws of the land generally. "It is this third party that must be kicked out of both the Republican and the Democratic parties if the new deal is to be really effective."

Beamish deplored "determined efforts in Pennsylvania to hamstring the president's policy." He characterized those who are campaigning for the defeat of the NRA "traitors and the enemies of the Republic during the Civil War and World War."

Asks Motorists To Not Buy From Cut Rate Dealers

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Determined to stabilize the oil industry under its code of fair practices, Secretary of Interior Ickes, as federal administrator for oil industry, today appealed to motorists to refrain from buying "cut-rate" petroleum products.

"The industry and the public are called upon to comply with the code," he said. Pointing out that those selling gasoline and oils below prevalent prices might be evading taxes or even selling oil produced and shipped illegally.

The government has banned interstate shipment of oil produced in violation of state quota regulations, while the code prevents unfair competition.

New Jersey Man Given Rights By Order Of Judge

(International News Service)

ELIZABETH, N. J., Sept. 23.—William Gemmel didn't mind much when his wife ordered him out of the house a year ago.

"I found the chicken coop in the backyard comfortable enough. He didn't even complain, William told Judge Henry S. Waldman, when his wife put up a wire fence to keep him from passing between the coop and the house."

But when she took in a lodger, a widow with four children, William became mildly resentful. "How come?" the judge asked Mrs. Gemmel, who explained she

"just couldn't get along with William."

"Well," the court told her grimly, "you'll get that lodger and his children out of the house within 24 hours or I'll get a deputy sheriff to do it."

William looked forward to spending tonight in "a comfortable room and bed" under the express command of his honor, Judge Waldman.

A BELOVED TEACHER

IN THE passing of Dr. John Abram Shott, Westminster College loses more than a teacher, the college has lost one of its finest influences. More, education has lost one of its leaders and the citizens of Lawrence county have lost a valuable citizen.

His influence upon the graduates of Westminster College in the past thirty years can never be measured. In his gentle, kindly way he made an impress upon their minds that has remained with them through the years. The business man at his city desk or the missionary at his far flung post, both got something from Dr. Shott that has helped them on their way.

He loved Westminster College as the students loved him. He was a part of the old school, a part that has been removed but will always be remembered.

Old graduates coming back for reunions will miss him, for reunions meant meeting him again. Truly a beloved teacher, whose passing leaves sorrow and regret.

UNKNOWN HEROES

The heroic role being played by three unidentified scientists in an effort to find the cause of "sleeping sickness" now epidemic in St. Louis is not an unusual one for members of the Medical profession. The latter's record has in it many similar cases in which members have risked their lives in an effort to advance the welfare of humanity. In some, the supreme sacrifice has been made.

For several months the nation's best medical brains have been trying to end the St. Louis epidemic, which has taken more than 100 lives. Recognizing the necessity of learning the cause of the disease before a cure could be expected to be found, experiments having this as their aim were begun. It was believed that if the means of transmission of the disease from one person to another could be found, an important step toward discovering the cause would be made. Monkeys and rabbits at first were used in these experiments. Mosquitoes, after being permitted to bite victims of the disease, were placed in contact with these animals. The tests were unsuccessful.

Three scientists, their names withheld, then volunteered themselves as subjects, apparently on the theory that monkeys and rabbits might possess a resistance to the disease not common with man. Their offer was accepted and they took the place of the monkeys and rabbits. From 10 to 14 days will be required to determine the success or failure of the experiment.

With their identity concealed, they can not be accused of courting publicity, which has become an all too common practice in many walks of professional and private life. They are risking their lives in the hope that whatever sacrifice they may have to make will be of help to humanity. They are unknown heroes in a great cause.

The public may never know their names, but it, nevertheless, will acclaim and honor them for their unselfish devotion to a lofty purpose. It is to such men as these that the medical profession owes much of its high standing.

TRUCK PROBLEM STUDIED

Ten thousand truck operators throughout the country have been asked by Joseph B. Eastman, federal coordinator of transportation, to answer a questionnaire to determine the relation of trucking to freight transportation.

The inquiry is part of the federal program for bringing into coordination railroad, waterway and motor transportation. Its immediate purpose is to determine in what sphere transportation of goods by motor vehicle is more economical or serviceable than by other means.

The investigation will not be confined to hire-vehicles. It will include also private operators of 10 or more vehicles in transporting their own goods, "as it is recognized that such transportation is of growing importance, and facts relating to it must be obtained before any sound transportation plan can be devised."

Assurance was given all to whom the questionnaire was sent that the information and data submitted in reply would be treated in the strictest confidence. The coordinator wants to know the character and extent of traffic handled, the charges made by trucks operating for hire, the nature of the service performed and the expense of truck operation.

The operation of motor trucks has done more than any other one thing to upset America's transportation system. Trucks have given railroads a hard blow by diverting important revenue from the rail lines. They have established themselves permanently in the transportation field. They perform an important public service. The question is not their elimination but to find the proper place for them in the national scheme of transportation.

The present inquiry aims to do this. Its success will mean the solution of a troublesome problem.

REDUCE FIRE MENACE

A little extra care by one individual may prevent a fire that would cause the loss of thousands of dollars.

Should everybody remember and apply this truth, the annual fire loss in the United States, which last year totaled more than $450,000,000 would be greatly reduced. Not all fires are due to carelessness, but many of them are.

Prevention of those arising from this source is the chief objective of the movement represented in fire prevention week, which this year begins October 8. These campaigns are designed to remind the public of the importance of observing safety-first rules, with respect to fire in homes and other places. The purpose is an excellent one.

The present is a good time for the public to take particular notice of its obligations in this matter. It is not the careless individual alone who suffers, but his neighbors and the community. The matter of preventing fires is a public duty.

Co-operation has become a watchword in our national life in warring on the depression. It is of equal importance in stamping out the huge annual fire loss.

Simon-pure governmental economy is what the outs want before they get in.

The report that fewer trucks are on the roads would have been good news before the sheriff got the family car.

Perhaps the reason time-clock sales have hit an all time peak is because punching the clock is a more popular sport than it formerly was.

The modern wife doesn't have a lot of children to get ready first, but her husband has to wait just as long for her to dress as if she did.

WISHING TO BE A FISH

It must be fun to be a fish. A fish that spends his life in the cool waters of the brook or the raging sea. . . . A fish that has none of the problems that beset a human being, but lies with his mouth open, stream and waits for food to come his way. And wisely avoids the silly lures that fishermen set in his way and darts and leaps and spends his finny life in so friendly an element. It must be fun!

They say that fish have no brains. I doubt that. I've tried to catch them and I'm sure they have more brains than enough to elude my hook. I've scratched their backs with barbs and dropped enticing bait before their very eyes, and found them smart, indeed. . . . They have brains; be sure of that, and any fisherman will bear me out. . . . They do not read. They play no games. They have no money and therefore cannot lose it. They build up no elaborate schemes of thought or dreams of glory and achievement. There's little a fish can do but nose his way through his accustomed haunts and enjoy the changing shadows of the day and the pleasant developments of the year. They fight the rapids and loiter in the quiet pools and have a pleasant time. . . . It might, indeed, be good to be a fish.

And yet, no human being can wish for long to be a fish, or to be any little wild animal that lives in the wilds and seems to have a natural, easy life. . . . Even a fish has enemies that are too much for him. Ills afflict him too, and, wary though he may be, he cannot avoid the clutch of the years. He grows older, feebler, and at last even he lies gasping on the shore of Time and thus his little life is ended. . . . And perhaps his intelligence is not great enough to enable him to enjoy the life that is his. . . . If that is true, and no man can say it is not, it's better to be a man than to be a fish. Better to suffer and struggle, better to hope and to be denied, better to live as a man lives—with a dream in his heart and the hope of achievement behind all his actions—than to be a darting fish in a limpid stream. . . . A man might bend over a brook and envy the little creature that he sees, but only for a moment. He knows that he has forgotten the challenge of life and his own searching, striving, never-quite-satisfied nature. He, too, is a creature in the Stream of Time.

TOO MUCH LOST MOTION

Most official bodies, holding meetings at specified periods, waste much time in conducting the business they have to transact. Half the time they consume should be enough to attend the work in hand.

The mind works better when it is kept centered on a certain object. When other matters are allowed to break into a line of thought that should be directed at a certain point, much mental power is dissipated.

If the business is carried on so directly and so continuously that there is no opportunity for mind wandering, much time is saved.

The subjects to be considered get a more sound and a more complete adjustment.

Those who have attended almost any kind of a public meeting realize that there is too much lost motion.

Too many subjects are touched upon instead of concentrating upon the important matters in the order of importance.

Useless in municipal bodies there are some persons who play to the galleries, drawing attention to themselves being their object, or putting over something favorable to a friend instead of working for the good of all whom they represent.

HOW TO BE A SUCCESS

Sometimes success is little takes. I wonder that we fail. The cup of broth a woman makes. For one whose cheeks are pale. May be the deed, if but we knew. That no one else would think to do.

Not in glory or in fame. That all success is told. However loud the world's acclaim. How filled the purse with gold. Who heedless passes suffering by. Falls all he gains to justify.

A cherry word, a helping hand. A tiny sprig of flowers. May longer on the record stand. Than proof of mightier powers. Who helps another in distress. That moment comes to true success.

Not all the worth while deeds are great. In countless little ways. A man may rise above the fate. Which wealth and fame delays. Success, sometimes, so little takes. It may be broth a woman makes.

GEOGRAPHICAL SISTERS
Miss Rose asked her eighth grade. "What are the sister states?"

Mabel answered: "I am not sure, but I should think they were Missouri, Idaho, Maryland, Callie Fornia, Louisiana, Della Ware, Minnie Sota and Mrs. Sippl."

Dead Fred: Small boys undoubtedly are a nuisance to neighbors. But then, neighbors are a nuisance to the small boys.

MRS. F. F. D.

CAUSE FOR SHOOTING
"I heard a lady say, This is so sudden! There was a gunshot, and a feller busted out of the front door of old man Whiffles' house, rolled down the hill, lit up and was gone!"

Lagg of Booger Holler. "It was Whiffles' oldest gal that done the shooting, I reckon. The feller she shot at was probly Huck Fodders. It was in the dusk of the evening and I couldn't see overly well. Him and her had been going together about 10 years, and I surmise he took a tumble to himself and asked her if she didn't sorter think they ought to get married. She blushed, I reckon, and said it was so sudden, and she laughed like thunder. She just grabbed up her dad's gun and took a shot at him, and I don't blame her."

A recent society bride had six bridesmaids in hyacinth blue silk and two pages in bright crimson velvet with gold lace. A pale bridegroom completed the color scheme.

"We shall reside at the Old Manse" said the bride. And the reporter wrote:

"When they return from their honeymoon the newlyweds will live with the bride's father."

Lecturer: "Of course you all know what the inside of a corpse is like."

Chairman: "Most of us, but you'd better explain it for the benefit of them as have never been inside one."

Judge: "Do you wish to have a defending counsel?"

Accused: "No, sir but I should be obliged to you if you could get me two reliable witnesses."

CONFESSION BY ED HOWE
Most people regard fault finding as an exhibition of smartness or virtue. It is usually an exhibition of pettiness. I can find fault with anything. If I know so well how great things should be done, why do I not accomplish some of them? I confess, I find too much fault and shall try to do less of it.—Ed Howe.

Dear Fred: When the lips of the average girl are made up they are willing to go to press with any "type" of man.

Adoption of a code for the soft-coal industry is welcomed by the public as the most important development of the recovery plans. Continuing labor troubles, it is suggested in comments, are likely to be banished, while future proceedings, under the leadership of the government, may meet the problem of "too many mines and too many workers."

"The code may be the solution needed of the labor difficulties," in the opinion of the LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL, while the YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR calls it "one of NRA's most promising developments," and voices the belief that "if it works out as anticipated, it will rid the industry of evils which were carrying it to destruction." The RUTLAND HERALD believes the regulations "may save the industry from absolute ruin." The CLEVELAND NEWS declares: "By bringing peace to the most sorely distressed industry in America, it represents a progressive economic adjustment that has few parallels in history." The News adds that "problems generations old apparently have been adjusted."

"The code is a long step, it is believed, in the right direction," says the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR. "Admittedly there have been too many coal mines and too many coal miners to permit of general economic operation of the industry. No code can be expected to eliminate all the evils. But through agreements and fair operating practices, the code may be done. The NEW YORK SUN sees 'an end of the strikes, disputes and conferences which have dragged along for nearly three and a half months,' but considering peace for the whole industry, remarks that "hardly more than 30 days ago, an officer of the coal company asserted that the adoption of a single basic code for the coal industry, North and South, was an impossibility." The Sun, however, feels that the code "comprises all the features regarded as most acceptable to the largest majority of the industry."

Giving attention to the position of the Southern fields, the JERSEY CITY JOURNAL comments: "Two of the major controlling factors, which will yet play big parts in the success or failure of the coal code, are the drastic sectional results which are feared by the South and the rivalry of substitute fuels. The price of coal may be elimination of many fuel consumers, then will be to consider oil, gas, and even electricity. And the South anticipates now the closing of coal mines, because Northern fields which were unionized will not have to increase pay (since contracts continue in force), whereas the pay increases in the South will mean that many Southern coal mines will hardly be able to sell their coal in competition with the Northern coal. The sectional difficulties, however serious are the problems involved in potential loss of all livelihood in large coal districts, will eventually work themselves out if the rivalry of other fuels does not cripple the entire industry too severely."

Emphasizing the fact that one coal company favored suspension of operations pending "a better understanding of the code," the CONNELSVILLE COURIER expresses fear of "serious interference with the progress we were beginning to make," and continues: "It will be most unfortunate if this suspension is prolonged. It is hoped, however, that it may be avoided, that complete understanding may be reached on the code issues, and that when mining is resumed it will continue without interruption from any cause, but will contribute in larger measure than for many years to making our prosperity more permanent and participated in by all our citizens."

"It is noteworthy," in the opinion of the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, "that the administration has been much more chary of limiting its power to effect changes than it was in either the steel or the automobile code. Operators may withdraw their code. Operators may withdraw their code. Operators may withdraw their code."

"The code's existence after that date and punish dissenters as if they were dissenters of a Blue Eagle agreement." The NEW YORK TIMES concludes: "The industry has been placed in a better position to prevent destructive price-cutting within its own ranks, and to substitute cooperative action for the compulsory anarchy imposed on it by the Anti-Trust Laws of another generation."

"It may, if there shall be judicious use of the opportunity afforded, provide the means by which," according to the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN, "the permanent solution of the bituminous problem can be worked out. The soft coal industry, for one, is not a foolhardy competitor and another, foolish and perpetual labor controversy among them has been pretty nearly shot to pieces, and there has long been need of radical reconstruction."

It was at a college dance. The young man had just been introduced to her, and after a brief and awkward silence he ventured, "You are from the west, I understand."

"Yes, from Indiana," she replied. "Hoosier girl!"

Pennsylvania Is Second High In Train Fatalities

(Special To The News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 23.—Pennsylvania ranked second of the states in the number of persons killed and injured in train accidents last year, according to statistics just released by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Illinois came first.

Last year, 317 persons were killed and 1386 injured in Pennsylvania train wrecks, Illinois was the only state outranking Pennsylvania in the number of such casualties, having 377 killed and 1556 hurt. The Pennsylvania train casualties comprised 7.85 per cent of all such casualties in the nation.

Of the 317 killed in Pennsylvania, 202 were trespassers on railroad property and 115 were non-trespassers. Of the 1386 injured, 219 were trespassers and 1167 were non-trespassers. The number of trespassers killed was greater in Pennsylvania than in any other state.

Of the crashes in the Keystone State, 863 resulted in damage of more than $150 to railroad property. Such accidents were more numerous in Pennsylvania than any other state. Ohio coming second with 451 and Illinois third with 439.

tion. There is a better chance for rebuilding, if there shall be wise counsel, and real assistance on the part of governmental authority, than there has been before." The BALTIMORE SUN concludes as to the probable results: "The success or failure of the final readjustment will depend in great measure on the establishment of proper price differentials in the different marketing regions into which the country is divided. If the mines are placed on a properly competitive basis, the operators and the miners alike may be able to extricate themselves from the troubles against which they have struggled so unsuccessfully in the past."

"The one shadow on the settlement made," suggests the AKRON BEACON JOURNAL, "is that its benefits will not immediately come to pass. While they were stalling for delay in code acceptance, operators, following the trend in other industries, piled up a large surplus of mined coal which they expect to market at higher prices. This will mean that at a time when they most need it, thousands of miners will be unable to find employment, for the surplus will serve as excuse for shut-downs or curtailed operations."

STOCKS

Market Prices
Slightly Higher

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The stock market took a new lease on life today as prices of the leading issues were boosted from fractions to 2 points in fast trading.

The upturn which was apparent right from the start was due to the announcement from Washington of the government's plan to buy surplus cotton at 10 cents a pound and release frozen deposits in closed banks. Virtually every group shared in the recovery movement. Railroad shares which had been under severe pressure earlier in the week came back strongly under the lead of New York Central, Illinois Central, Lackawanna and Atchafalaya with gains running to 2 points.

The utility shares, another hard hit group, were in demand with Consolidated Gas, Public Service and American Water works in the van of the upturn.

The liquor also showed an improved tone with National Distillers again touching par for a net gain of 3 points and generally steadying the rest of the group.

United States Steel, the motor shares including General Motors and Chrysler were stronger today and scored fractional gains.

The commodity markets gave the most bullish demonstrations of all with cotton up from $2 to more than $3 a bale and wheat more than 2 cents a bushel over yesterday's close.

Lindberghs Will

Soviet Aviation Chief Arrives in Leningrad To Extend Official Invitation

ENJOY SIGHTS
IN LENINGRAD

(International News Service)
LENINGRAD, U. S. S. R., Sept. 23.—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, "undoubtedly" will accept an invitation to go to Moscow while they are in Russia, it was said today. V. Beriezin, acting chief of the Soviet civil aviation committee, arrived from the capital to extend an official invitation, and he was to confer with the Lindberghs later in the day.

The question of whether they would go by train or fly their seaplane to Moscow remained to be settled. Col. Lindbergh awaited details of numerous lakes and rivers along the way which could be used for landing enroute and at the capital.

The Lindberghs started out on a sightseeing tour early in the morning, touring the city and then visiting the Hermitage galleries and journeying to Petersburg City, 40 miles from Leningrad, and known as "Petit Versailles" because of its beautiful gardens and fountains.

Tonight they were to be entertained at a big reception at the Astoria hotel by civil, naval and military aviation officials.

Man And Woman Being Held For Kidnaping Plot

Pretty Young Nurse And Boy Friend Planned To Kidnap Wealthy New York Girl

POLICE ARREST WOMAN IN AUTO

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—A pretty young nurse and her boy friend, a gasoline station helper, both confessed early today to sending letters threatening to kidnap the daughter of a wealthy stock broker from her Yonkers home unless $10,000 in cash were paid them.

The victim of the kidnaping plot was to be Helen Batcheller, 19, daughter of Franklin A. Batcheller, one of the wealthiest men of the Westchester suburb.

The nurse, Nicolina Depalma, 23 years old, also of Yonkers, was arrested near midnight on a lonely road north of New York City. Twelve Yonkers policemen who had thrown a cordon around the area where the payment was to have been made, came upon her sitting in a parked automobile.

Police said that she held in her arms a large loaf of bread which had been split up the middle, evidently a handy hiding place for the money.

Confessions Made
As she answered the description of a woman they had obtained by tracing a telephone call directing how the payment should be made earlier in the evening, they arrested her immediately.

She was taken to Yonkers police headquarters where she shortly afterwards confessed that she was the woman who had been making the telephone calls to the Batcheller home about the payment of the $10,000 for the past five weeks.

She also named her boy friend, James Medley, 25 years old, who works for a gasoline station near the Batcheller home, as the originator of the plot. The police went right out and picked up Medley, after a short time he also confessed, they said.

Cost Of Votes At Primary Estimated

Each Vote Cost 24 Cents For Election Expenses Or 46 Cents With Registration Costs

Each vote at the recent primary cost the county of Lawrence a little over 24 cents, if election expenses alone are considered and about 46 cents if registration expenses are added according to computations made by County Controller R. C. McCaslin.

The election expenses included $4,938.48 for election officers; $445 for polling places; $1193 for ballots; $289.45 for election supplies and $63 for delivery of ballots.

There were 24,203 votes cast in the county or about 24 cents apiece. Registration costs in the county amounted to $3182. If this be added to the election expenses, it would amount to $11,087.90, and makes the cost of the votes cost 46 cents apiece. Of course the registration will not have to be done again for the November election, when the election costs will be the only ones to be charged.

PROUDLY BOASTS OF HIS ACTIVITIES

(International News Service)

LEIPZIG, Germany, Sept. 23.—The complaint he had been kept in chains "day and night for five months" was made today by George Dimitroff, Bulgarian Communist and one of the five men on trial before the supreme court here on charges of setting fire to the Reichstag building in Berlin.

The defendant voiced his complaint when the presiding justice, Judge Wilhelm Buenger, admonished him for failing to give coherent and respectful answers.

"I am nervous," he said, "after spending day and night for five months in chains."

Boasts Of Activities

Dimitroff boasted of his Communist activities, claiming he led the Red uprising in Bulgaria in 1922, but flatly denied complicity in the Reichstag blaze.

"I am opposed to individual acts of terrorism such as the Reichstag fire," he said.

Industrial Review Shows Slight Decline

Trouble In Coal Field Held Responsible For Downward Trend In Other Lines

By JAMES C. KINKAID
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 23.—Western Pennsylvania's mine "holiday" today was blamed by business observers as being almost entirely responsible for the second successive week in industrial production declines.

Throughout the state, the "holiday" made itself felt, but particularly in the western section.

Coal production in the western section of the state was far below normal for this season. In the central section, coal production remained comparatively steady. A composite figure of coal production throughout the state placed the current average at about 65 per cent of capacity.

Steel operations throughout the state declined about one-half of one per cent during the week, an encouraging indication in a week when industrials wallowed in unfavorable figures. A majority of the plants are still said to be breaking about even on output and although some of the mills are losing money, drastic layoffs have not been reported.

Car Loadings Down.

Railroad car loadings in the state dropped below the preceding week for the first time since the last mine strike. The Pennsylvania railroad reported a decline of 5.1 per cent from the last seven-day period. This however, is still 40 per cent above the loadings a year ago at this time.

Throughout the state, car loadings were reported off and figures for the first 21 days of the month indicated that only an immediate boost in coal production would put freight revenue at a figure higher than in August. Nevertheless, balance sheets probably will still remain in the "black" for September despite the decline.

Regardless of the unfavorable industrial figures, trade in every section of the state showed a decided improvement over the previous week with a jump of almost two per cent. It is currently about 80 per cent of normal for this season. The jump followed a six-point decline the previous week.

Oil districts reported production steady with no changes made in the quotations for crude.

Textiles throughout the state were unchanged in production averages from the previous week.

Rubber Firm.

Rubber operations in most plants remained firm with capacity operation still in effect in some sections.

Glass works were unaffected by declines.

Electric power output declined as industries slackened their pace. The present figure is about 75 per cent of normal throughout the commonwealth.

Regardless of the declines during the last week, Pennsylvania business is greatly improved from the same time a year ago. The following composite chart, corrected for seasonal variations, compares the present average with those of a week ago and a year ago:

	This Last Year	week week ago
Production .....	60.0	65.8
Iron and steel .....	61.5	61.9
Electric power .....	74.8	75.1
Coal .....	64.4	61.2
Carloadings .....	54.4	58.5
Trade .....	80.0	78.1

Both the Pittsburgh and Philadelphia stock exchanges were the targets for declines during the week, many leading shares dropping to new lows for the current downturn of financial issues.

Sales on both exchanges were brisk, however, despite the price trend downward.

Contagion was at a low ebb during July, five cases of measles, five of whooping cough and two of scarlet fever being reported.

Urge Industrial Education In Big Campaign For NRA

Educational And Industrial Leaders Join Hands For Federal Government Action

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Sept. 23.—Educational and industrial leaders of Pennsylvania joined hands today to urge the federal government to give more attention to industrial education in conjunction with the national recovery program.

Delegates to a conference called by the department of public instruction advocated federal and state programs for the retraining of persons who are being put back to work. The principal complaint was that the "educational phase" is being overlooked in the drafting of industrial codes.

"For the sake of the future welfare of our boys and girls we need emphasize vocational and vocational habits now so that they can function to the advantage of the future prosperity of the state and Union," Dr. James N. Rule, superintendent of public instruction, said. "The NRA has developed an imperative need for taking vocational education into every community where classes can be conducted advantageously."

The falling birth rate indicates one of two things. People aren't really so poor, or else they have the stark fooled.

It isn't education that is worthless. It is the funny stuff that people have labeled education.

Daylight Saving Ends At Midnight

Residents Of City Will Get Extra Hour Of Sleep Tonight

New Castle residents will have a chance to get that extra hour of sleep, that they lost last spring, back tonight when Daylight Saving Time comes to an end.

The prescribed formula is to turn the clock back one hour on retiring tonight. It would be wise to have one person in the family designated to perform this task, as it has been found that in the past, several have done so and the result was that instead of getting back just one hour, three or four have been secured. Incidentally, don't be surprised if you waken in the morning to find the sun shining in your window, as you will be adding an extra hour of daylight on in the morning.

New Castle High Defeats Ellwood City 41-0

New Castle Plays Fine Game Against Big Ellwood Team

New Castle Upsets Ellwood City With Six Touchdowns And Safety

Ellwood Good At Forward Passing; Lane, Kominic, Seetch And James Star

New Castle high school football team put another game in the bag last night at Taggart Field under the lights by scoring six touchdowns against a big Ellwood City high school football team. The score was 41 to 0. Freddy Lane scored twice, Kominic, Seetch, James and Tusciano each scored once. New Castle scored a safety in the final quarter on a blocked kick by Johns. A crowd of about 4,000 witnessed the game. The night was ideal for football with a clear sky. It was New Castle's second victory in two starts. Ellwood City had a great team but they were no match for the warriors turned loose by Head Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh.

Locals Score Early

The game was not very old when New Castle went across for the first touchdown with Lane carrying the ball from the 6-yard line. New Castle kicked off to Ellwood City at the start of the game, with Raskowski doing the kicking and when Ellwood City found the big front wall of the New Castle team too tough to penetrate, kicked to James in mid-field. New Castle started a grand march down the field with Kominic and James ripping off big gains. New Castle drew a penalty when the one yard line was reached and on the next play Lane raced over the final barrier lugging the ball. Raskowski converted the extra-point by placement. New Castle 6, Ellwood 0.

New Castle's second touchdown came with startling suddenness. Raskowski kicked off again to Ellwood City. Franks of Ellwood City fumbled and the ball was recovered by Sorto for New Castle, on the 43-yard line. James went around end for 15 yards on a reverse play, to the 30-yard line. James ripped off five more at tackle. Kominic fumbled and Bettini recovered for Ellwood City on the 20-yard line. On the first play Ellwood City fumbled and New Castle recovered with Humphrey falling on the ball. Kominic and Lane picked up nine yards between them. Kominic slammed through center for seven more. James carried the ball to the 4-yard line. Kominic blasted through center and scored standing up. Raskowski made the extra-point good. New Castle 14, Ellwood City 0.

Lane Scores Touchdown
Near the end of the first period New Castle scored again when Lane raced 20-yards around end. Raskowski tried for the extra-point but it was no good. New Castle 20, Ellwood City 0 at the end of the first quarter. Ellwood City opened up with a few passes that netted them yardage with Franks and Beane doing the passing. Ellwood City scored two first downs on passes. It was their only chance to get through the big New Castle line. Coach Benedict sent Tammario in for Jeannette at end.

The second period started with New Castle having the ball on the Ellwood City 45-yard line. Coach Bridenbaugh sent in Nickum to replace Lane and Palkovich to replace Humphrey. This was Nickum's first varsity game since he got his collar-bone broken. He received a fine hand from the big crowd.

Charles James Scores
New Castle was held for downs and forced to kick. Kominic booted the ball over the goal line. It was Ellwood ball on the 20-yard line. Franks tried to gain through the line and was stopped. Luxembourg tried for a gain at the line but was halted. Franks kicked to New Castle with Nickum taking the ball back for a 25 yard return. Nickum broke through for a first down to the 18-yard line. C. James fumbled the ball, retrieved it and raced around end for a touchdown on one of the prettiest plays seen at Taggart Field in some time. James looked the part of a good ball carrier as he weaved through the Ellwood City team. He had fine interference with Raskowski, and Sorto leading the way. Nickum tried for the extra-point and missed. Placement. New Castle 20, Ellwood City 0.

Coach Bridenbaugh sent in Seetch and Capitolo to replace Kominic and Ridley. Nickum kicked off to Bunney who made a nice 10-yard return. Franks passed to Luxembourg for no gain. Franks passed again to Luxembourg for a first down. It was a beautiful 14-yard pass. Capitolo making the tackle.

Ellwood Passes
Another pass by Ellwood City was no good. Franks passed to Beane who made 18-yards, and another first down. Another forward pass was grounded by New Castle. Franks kicked to Seetch who made a nice return of the ball. Young replaced Franks in the Ellwood City back-field.

Nickum went eight yards through the line. Nickum took a bad pass and lost 18 yards. Ellwood City took the ball on downs on the 13-yard line. Ellwood City carried the ball to the 4-yard line on passes from Young to Luxembourg but the New Castle line held tight and the visitors failed to put the ball over the goal line. Ellwood City tried a pass on the fourth down but failed. It was New Castle's ball on the 20-yard line. The first half ended at this point.

Seetch Goes Over
Bridenbaugh started to send his subs into the game in big flocks. Johns replaced Sorto, Perrett replaced Fleming, and Krammer sent for Hitchens. Coach Benedict sent Franks back in for Young.

At the start of the third period Franks kicked off for Ellwood City and Lane fumbled the ball, it was recovered by Nickum on the 30-yard line. Seetch made five yards at tackle. Nickum went for a first down. Lane fumbled and Ellwood City took the ball on the 39-yard line. Ellwood City fumbled and Krammer recovered for New Castle on the 45-yard line. New Castle started a steady march down the field with Seetch finally going over for the fifth touchdown from the three yard line. Nickum tried for an extra-point but it was low of the bar. New Castle 32, Ellwood City 0.

Johns Score Safety
Raskowski kicked off for New Castle. Ellwood City could not gain and were forced to kick. Capitolo got the punt and was downed in his tracks. The third period ended with New Castle having the ball on the Ellwood City 35-yard line. New Castle 32, Ellwood City 0.

New Castle scored two more points on a safety soon after the fourth and final quarter got under way. Seetch kicked to Ellwood City on the 10-yard line. Ellwood elected to punt right back. Beane was back to kick and the ball was blocked by "Ruffles" Johns for New Castle and he fell on the ball along with Beane and New Castle chalked up two more points. The ball was put in play by a kickoff by Ellwood City on the 20-yard line.

Tusciano Tallies
New Castle was destined to score another touchdown before the game ended. And this one came on a forward pass that was thrown by "Bill" Seetch and taken by Harry Tusciano on the dead run. Tusciano raced about 28 yards for the marker. It was a pretty play by the locals and caught Ellwood City asleep at the switch. Palkovich kicked the extra-point, making it New Castle 41, Ellwood City 0.

The game ended soon after the sixth touchdown with New Castle having the ball. Coach Bridenbaugh emptied the bench of subs, and had his third string team on the field when the game ended. Stanley Kominic a younger brother of Captain Walter Kominic got in the game and distinguished himself by several nice line blocks.

Thirteen First Downs
In the matter of first downs New Castle had 13 and Ellwood City had three. All of Ellwood's first downs came on forward passes. In the forward passing department as the pre-gamed Ellwood City made six passes good out of fifteen tries. New Castle tried four passes and completed three of them. Penalties were heavy on New Castle with 45 yards being called for infractions. Ellwood City had but 15 yards called on them. New Castle was only forced to punt twice, with kicks of 45 and 30 yards, while Ellwood City kicked the ball six times, the best kick being for 40 yards and the majority of them for 35 yards.

The yardage for the New Castle backfield reads like this: Kominic carried the ball seven times and made 32 yards. James carried the ball 11 times and made a grand total of 124 yards. Lane made 46 yards on six tries. Nickum accounted for 64 yards on six plays. Seetch worked the ball 11 times and made 52 yards. Hamilton carried the ball four times and made five yards. Stanley Kominic had the ball twice and made 13 yards.

Coach "Gangy" Benedict brought a game, hard fighting Ellwood City team to New Castle last night, but they could not match with the huskies sent out for New Castle. Alex Shellogg and Joe Howley two of the New Castle regulars were not used by Coach Bridenbaugh. Shellogg is injured and Howley was not feeling well.

Subs Look Good
The second and third teams showed up very well when sent in to replace the regulars. Walter Raskowski played a bangup game at guard, breaking up many of the invaders plays and doing fine work in the kicking department. C. James looked very good in the New Castle backfield, so did Walter Kominic, Lane, Nickum and Seetch.

For the Ellwood City team the work of Franks, Luxembourg, Bettini, and Scopellite was by far the best. Ellwood City has a good team and one that will cause a lot of trouble for other teams that they meet this year.

Union Outplayed
The game was nip and tuck in the first quarter with no scores being made, but the Evans City team had the ball in Union territory the biggest part of the time.

On the third play after play was resumed in the fourth and final period Painter skirled through from the 6-yard line for the third touchdown for Evans City. The extra-point was made by Watson passing to Kaufman. Union again took the kickoff, but failed to gain any ground. It was a poor punt, Evans City got the ball well in Union territory. ## Giants-Senators Will Rest Until Time For Series

Rookies Will Get Opportunity To Strut Stuff In Few Remaining Games

BABE RUTH IS SLATED TO PITCH

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Autumn's so-called sad and melancholy days are the happiest in the year for the unknown, rookies, has-beens and jacks-of-all-trades in baseball and today they start rounding up belated glory.

Bowing and scraping, they will dash about infield and outfield, working themselves into such a fever that when the regular season ends a week from tomorrow hardly a one could be convinced they were not out there all year.

Will Use Rookies.
For instance, Johnny Salveson, a pitcher who knows full well the outline of every knot on all National League benches, will get one of his few flings of the year starting for the New York Giants, senior league champions, who play a double-header today against Brooklyn.

Pred Pittsbums, who will be one of the Giants' world series starting pitchers, may pitch the second game but Carl Hubbell and Hal Schumacher, the other Giant ace, will rest until next Wednesday, getting a final workout for the double-header against Philadelphia. Ott and Moore, star out-fielders, will be used sparingly until the regular season ends.

Washington, American League champions, will use a somewhat make-shift lineup today against the Athletics, Manager Joe Cronin resting his prima donas in preparation for the title series.

Ruth To Pitch.
New York's Yankees open a series with Boston today and Babe Ruth, once a pitcher, will hurl one of the games for the Yanks.

Huck Betts was tight in the pinches and won 3 to 0 for Boston's Braves over Philadelphia yesterday in the only game played. Philadelphia got 11 hits off Betts, while Austin Moore held the Braves to 6, but Boston bunched theirs in the fourth and ninth innings. The win separated Boston from a first division berth by only two games.

Rain washed away the game between Pittsburgh and St. Louis in the National League and other clubs not scheduled.
(International News Service)
REDWOOD CITY, Cal., Sept. 23.—"It looks like a toss up to me."
That was the comment made here today by Ty Cobb, the famous former ace hitter of the American League when asked to name the probable winner of the forthcoming World Series between the New York Giants and the Washington Senators.
"In the last 10 or 15 World series I know of no teams which appear to be so evenly matched as the contestants this year," Cobb continued.
"The Senators, however, seem to have a bit more of a punch than the Giants, though both teams play about the same type of baseball."

Fast Events End New Castle Fair Racing Program

Running Races Are Again Exciting And Very Interesting To Race Crowd

WEATHER CONDITIONS PROVE TO BE IDEAL

Harness and running races of the New Castle fair, postponed from Thursday, were run off Friday afternoon in the presence of some 500 race fans and under ideal weather conditions, which made the events fast.

In the first harness race, the 2:24 pace, the first and final heats went to Scarlet, the brown stallion driven by McMillen, while Cordy Bancroft, the Bowser entry, took second. This event was closely contested, the horses being bunched at all times and the winner only determined at the finish.

Real Worth and First Hanover divided the honors in the 2:17 trot. Real Worth taking the first two heats and First Hanover the third. The winners had to step lively to win.

Western Pennsylvania Breeders' Stake event had but three entries, but it was a real horse race just the same. Glenville, the winner in three straight heats, continued a remarkable record by winning in this manner, this roan gelding having won every heat so far this year.

Running Races.
Five running races were staged and proved exceptionally good. In the second of the events, the drivers of Pro Council and Star Miss were spilled on the back stretch when the horses fell down. Neither horses nor drivers were badly injured.

In the third of these events, Har-moak, winner, ran away from the field with great ease. In the fourth event, Leo Mac was set back in last position for fouling.

Judges Punish Jockey Grady

Set Back To Last, Ruled Off The Track For Day

HOLDS HEAD OF TWO MAIDS; WHIPPED

Having stepped into the money Wednesday in two races Shakutap duplicated the feat yesterday in the three fourth mile dash and the mile and 70 yards event. Shakutap finished second in the three fourth mile dash and won the mile and 70 yards Runtill and Quadriple.

It appears as though Shakutap had a tough summer campaign until he hit New Castle. That is, according to James E. Doyle who wrote yesterday in the Cleveland Plain-Dealer.

"Member the old hag called Shakutap, that was running around here all summer and couldn't beat out a bun?"

"Well, they took Shakutap over to the New Castle, Pa. fair a few days ago, and what did he do but mud his merry way into the money in two races on the same afternoon! And that's something the like of which I've never heard before."

"Twice the day before yesterday that it happened. There were only three races on the bill. Shakutap was coming like the hammers of where's this as he showed in the opener, which was at five-lengths of a mile; and so eager did he appear for more action that they tossed him into the finale, a mile and 70 yards meander. Yea-up, and he won that one."

"Now I understand he's looking for Equipose a best two-in-three argument on any afternoon that Equipose may wish to name."

"We're willin' to let the toss of a coin decide on whose home grounds the reins should be torn off," says the spokesman for Shakutap. "But we won't care much one way or the other—New Castle or Saratoga."

Full Old Stunt
An old grudge, it would seem, was settled in the three fourths of a mile dash. It resulted in Leo Mac being back to last and Two Maids being awarded the race.

Harry Eyster took the runners to the barrier and at the get-away the jock, on Leo Mac, while Grady seized the rein on Two Maids and held her back.

Of course the jock on Two Maids wasn't idle all this time. He whipped his mare and also Grady who made the error of holding onto Two Maids head until he neared the judges stand.

He was called to the stand, likewise the other rider and Leo Mac was set back to last and Two Maids given the race. This automatically put Shakutap in second money and Broomey third.

After the judges had settled the manner one of the Leo Mc's friends grew obstreperous and was escorted from the judge's stand by constables

Local NRA Board Not To Settle Labor Disputes

All Labor Controversies To Be Referred To National Labor Board In Washington

(Special To The News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 23.—The New Castle NRA compliance board will not concern itself with any local labor disputes arising out of fair practice codes.

Fearful overlapping, the Recovery Administration has decided that all labor controversies should be referred to National Labor Board headed by Senator Wagner, New York Democrat. The board has been remarkably successful in ironing out labor troubles thus far. Hence it has been decided that the board shall have charge of arbitrating all such clashes.

Under instructions to be issued by Administrator Hugh S. Johnson, the New Castle compliance board will be advised not to meddle with labor disputes but to have all such referred to the national board here. The compliance board, however, will continue with its investigations of alleged violations of blue eagle codes and will seek to persuade employers to abide by their agreements.

Funeral Of Dr. Shott To Be Held Tomorrow

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 23.—Funeral services for Dr. John Abram Shott, veteran professor at Westminster College who died at his home here Thursday evening, will be held Sunday afternoon at four o'clock on the Westminster chapel.

The faculty of the college met last night to draw up resolutions and to make plans for attending the funeral service. Dr. Charles Freeman, an associate of Dr. Shott's for many years, was made chairman of the faculty resolutions committee.

The activities of today, including the freshman stunt day and the all-college dance, have been postponed until next Saturday, but the football game with Slippery Rock will be played. This, according to Edwin and Gladys Shott, son and daughter of the deceased, would be what Dr. Shott would have desired.

At the funeral service tomorrow, Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, president of Westminster; and Rev. Dr. J. Ralph Neale, pastor of the New Wilmington United Presbyterian church, will officiate. Dr. Shott will be taken to the town of his birth, Sandvill, O., on Monday where he will be buried in the old family plot.

The resolution will urge that a special committee be named to study the proposition and report to the national executive committee here and its November meeting.

This Boy Is Surely Bad Luck Champion

CHARLEROI, Pa., Sept. 23.—Antonio Valentini, 12, of East Monongahela, is the world's unluckiest boy.

Nursing a broken arm, he went to sit under a tree during the noon recess.

The arm had been broken last week when he fell from a truck. He was studying his lessons when a bee stung him on the leg. A thoughtful teacher applied a lotion and Antonio returned to his place beneath the tree.

Five minutes later he was enroute to the Monongahela Memorial hospital. A limb of the tree had snapped beneath the weight of several boys and they fell on him.

He suffered serious abdominal injuries and the splintered end of the limb cut a gash in his scalp which required five stitches.

SCORES LIQUOR RETURN

Editor, The News:

Now that the primary is over and the smoke of the battle is settled, we have time to discuss other questions of importance. Now that the repeal of the 18th amendment is only a question of time and the old saloon will be restored to its former place, we are faced with the age-old problem of how to control the liquor traffic.

As a matter of fact the liquor traffic in this country never has been regulated and never will be. To allow each state to control the sale of liquor for itself is to open a big field for the bootlegger. All of the strength and power of the new administration is being used to restore the old saloon—in fact it's been the goal of the wets from the first to put the sale of liquor on the same footing that it was before prohibition.

Of course, the Democratic platform pledged the party to prevent the return of the saloon, but who believes the promise will be kept. The political platform is made to get in on and not to stand on.

When the 18th amendment is repealed liquor will come in like a flood and conditions in this nation will be tenfold worse than ever. Had our thoroughly wet president not held a club over the heads of the leaders of the southern states, the southern section probably would have voted dry.

Well, to change the question, that old question of a new court house seems to be popping up again. When the matter of any public improvement comes up the first consideration should be the source of the money. With the country heavily in debt and threatened with bankruptcy, it doesn't seem a good time to plan ways by which it can be plunged further into debt.

There are farmers in this country now financially unable to make needed improvements on their farms and some of them are even doing without some of the necessities of life on account of the high taxes and some of the working men in town are facing the loss of their homes. If there ever was a time when the most rigid economy should be practiced in public business, it is right now. Let us all hope that our commissioners will go slow on the building of a new court house.
